THIS MIGHT LOOK like a TV location for a Western series, but it's actually Trade and Commerce Minister George Hees and his wife riding up to open the annual stampede at Edson, Alberta. He also helped the town celebrate its 50th anniversary but ended up thumbing a ride seven miles after a mix-up in transportation.

Rose Roskewich, Paul Davidiuk Wed In Double-Ring Ceremony

A July double-ring wedding of wide interest was solemnised in St. John's Church in Edmonton when Miss Rose Marie Roskewich, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roskewich of Breynat, became the bride of Mr. Paul Davidiuk of Edmonton.

The bride chose a full-length portrait bridal gown of filmy silk organza and net over satin. The scalloped alencon lace neckline and short sleeves were encrusted with pale sequins. The deep sweep train skirt flounce was released from a three tiered butterfly bow. Her bouffant elbow-length veil misted from a crystal and pearl crown. She carried a cascade bouquet of chrysanthemums. Her only jewellery was a single strand of cultured pearl with matching earrings, a gift from the groom.

Attending the bride was Miss Rose

Davidiuk, sister of the groom, Miss Janet Strayski, Miss Stella Ilnicki, Miss Betty Karpetz, and Miss Gail Karpetz, all cousins of the bride.

All were attired in orchid organza with gloves. They wore identical organza-net headpieces and carried bouquets of yellow roses backed with fern and luscious white ribbon.

The groom was attended by Mr. Jess Johnson, Mr. Tom Rebekowich, Mr. Russell Roskewich, brother of the bride, Mr. Victor Strayski, and Mr. John Petruka. The groom and best man were handsomely attired in charcoal black suits and matching ties.

The bride entered the church with her father while the organist Mr. Clark Blake played the wedding march.

Rev. Father MacDonald sang the nuptial mass with the soloist Mr. Clark Blake accompanying.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Roskewich chose a orchid over taffeta two-piece dress. Her hat was mad orchid and she wore a corsage of yellow roses.

The reception was at the bride's home in Breynat. The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. The tables were decorated and set with colorful flowers. This reception was attended by approximately 500 people. Mr. Mike Ilnicki acted as master of ceremonies and proposed the toast to the bride and groom.

The happy couple left for a honeymoon to British Columbia, Washington, Idaho, and Montana. For travelling the bride donned a white sheath dress and a corsage of red roses. Her accessories were lilac.

The newlywed couple will make their home in Rockyford.

Elevator Receives First Barley, Seed And Wheat

From Cucumbers To Cabin Cruiser On Lac la Biche

Residents of Lac la Biche are seeing a new sight, but an old boat, modernized by a new top and a few coats of gleaming white paint, these days.

The boat, a reconditioned version of the one originally owned by Joe Strembiski, cruises over to the Nanton Street dock from camp McGrane now and then with John Johanson at the helm, and often with Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Pue, of Sun Publishing Co. as passengers.

It was owned by Mr. Johanson for the past five years and was a familiar sight plying back and forth from his island farm to the town carrying cucumbers. When Mr. Johanson retired last fall, Mr. Pue purchased the boat, and now under Mr. Johanson's experienced hand, it has had a top section added, so that it can now be classed as a cabin cruiser.

Powered by a 90 h.p. Universal gas motor, the cruiser is being remodelled to include a sitting room, bedroom, kitchen and rest room facilities. It has a speed of up to 18 miles per hour, and in the past has carried as many as 110 persons. The length is 38 feet, width 9½ feet and the depth 3½ feet. So far as is known this is the largest non-commercial cabin cruiser in Alberta.

OLD RESIDENT ON RETURN VISIT TO PAKAN HOME

At the age of 87 Mrs. Jemina Erasmus, the oldest resident in the district, visited her old home at Pakan recently. She was driven by Henry Thompson and accompanied by her grand-daughter, Miss Joan Littlechild.

It was her first visit since leaving in 1942. Although she enjoyed the trip Mrs. Erasmus admitted that she found it hard to recognize the various places since the country had changed a great deal.

After an overnight stay at the home of her niece, Mrs. Christy Cromarty, and a couple of visits with friends, she returned home again happy to have been to see her old homestead once more.

Body Found In Town Grounds

LAC LA BICHE — The badly decomposed body of a woman was found last week by town police in a secluded spot in the nuisance grounds on the outskirts of town.

The body was believed to have been there for a matter of months, making identification very difficult. RCMP were called and the case was turned over to them.

The remains were taken to Edmonton for examination and investigation will continue.

Liberals Name Convention Date

Date for the Federal Liberal Nominating Convention has been set for September 27th, in the Memorial Hall at Lac la Biche.

LAC LA BICHE — The first load of 1961 barley was received at the United Grain Growers elevator on August 16. A load of rape seed was taken on the 14th, and the first load of wheat was expected on August 21. John Hackman, elevator agent, reported the barley and rape seed were both good samples.

Harvesting has begun in many fields in the district and will be general by the middle of the week. To the casual observer who travels through the country, crops are looking very good, but a close examination reveals that the intense heat experienced in July and August left its mark on some of the fields. Expectations are the yield for coarse grains in the immediate Lac la Biche district will be less than average. Further north, in the Wandering River district prospects are for a better yield, as a few showers struck that area just when the heat was beginning to cause damage.

Hay crops have been good and a heavy crop has been stored away in good condition. Clover, alfalfa and grass seed crops appear to be setting seed quite well. Flax is reported to be looking good, with a heavy acreage being seeded to this cash crop. Rape seed is also proving a satisfactory crop which is increasing in popularity.

Pastures are showing little adverse effect from the hot weather, and are just as green as they were in June.

Good Old Days

The good old days on a farm in Vermilion are recounted in an interview with Mr. and Mrs. George Haines. You'll find it in this week's issue of Alberta Country Life.

President Charles de Gaulle (above) has formally turned down an intervention by the United Nations in France's dispute with Tunisia over the Mediterranean naval-air base of Bizerte. The French statement charged Tunisia with trying to obtain through the U.N. what she had failed to obtain through force of arms.

Lac la Biche

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hunt, from Brandon, visited with Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Pue at Camp McGrane. They left for Jasper and Banff before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoy and two boys, of Chicago, are also visitors at Camp McGrane. This is the first time any of the family have been this far north.

Last week's adjourned meeting of Town Council, which was to reconvene on Tuesday, August 15, was not held due to the fact that less than a quorum of members were present. The question of a civic holiday has not been decided and will await the next regular meeting.

"The Athabasca Story" Highlight For Celebrations

Labor Day, September 4, 1961, promises a rare treat for the citizens of this area. On that day, the colorful past of Athabasca will come alive in "The Athabasca Story."

This story has been written by John Havard of Edmonton. Mr. Havard will be here in person for the last three weeks of August to direct and rehearse the production. Between three and four hundred will comprise the cast, who in words, music and action will depict the historic past, the momentous present, with a look to the optimistic future.

The action will take place on a huge outdoor stage being built on the new campsite at the junction of the Tawatinaw and Athabasca rivers. Costumes are already on hand, borrowed from Edmonton and Jasper. Pioneers, river-men, Indians, voyageurs, missionaries and many others will appear in authentic costumes of the periods. The river will once again become the centre of attention when an armada of boats take part in the final spectacular scenes.

Seats are being rented from the city, and you will be assured of comfort in the stands. Lighting and sound effects will be of the best, so that you may enjoy every minute of "The Athabasca Story."

But the pageant is not the only attraction of this big day. Beginning in the morning, food stalls, souvenir and game booths will be open downtown and a huge barbecue will be in operation in the afternoon.

A colorful parade takes off at 1:30 p.m. This will be highlighted by the presence of the P.P.C.L.I. Militia Band and the Strathcona Legion Pipe

Bayview

Mr. and Mrs. A. Stupak made the trip to Two Hills to visit Mrs. Stupak's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blonsky.

Mrs. Anne Yakielishek and Janice are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Stupak. Mrs. Yakielishek lives in Haines, Alaska.

Band From a railroad car spotted on the tracks a CFRN troop of entertainers will spend their acts. Plans are underway to stage a fly past of jet planes based at Cold Lake.

Following the parade, the official opening of the Community Centre will take place, with attending dignitaries participating. Tribute will be paid our senior citizens and the prizes presented to the pupils who wrote the award-winning essays in the contest sponsored earlier in the year, by the jubilee committee.

In the downstairs rooms of the Community Centre there will be a display of heirlooms and interesting objects of the early days. Do you know what a spoon warmer is and why it was used? The answer will be among the heirlooms.

Festivities will end with a brilliant display of fireworks and a dance in the Community Centre. Plan now to spend Monday, Sept. 4 in Athabasca, reminiscing over the past and enjoying the entertainment of the present.

Sherritt Gordon Mines Get Govt. Order 10 Million

By KEN LARSON

Constant research and foresight has won Sherritt Gordon Mines Ltd. at Fort Saskatchewan an initial contract to produce nickel blanks for the Canadian mint. Finance Minister Donald Fleming says the order is the first one to ever go to a Canadian company. Sherritt Gordon will produce 10 million at a considerably lower price than suppliers in the United Kingdom.

The nickel is one of the country's most used coins. Over 30 million pieces have been issued already to date.

Installation earlier this year at Fort Saskatchewan of a "rolling mill" gave Sherritt Gordon researchers the idea for punching out nickel blanks from metal strips. The mill produces the strips which eventually will find their way into electronics and welding industries.

The firm will have to add several small pieces of equipment to its plant to handle production of the blanks. Out of Fort Saskatchewan comes nickel in the form of briquettes for melting and alloy purposes, and nickel powders. The briquettes go into the making of stainless steel and nickel alloys by commercial firms, and the powder is used in the chemical industry.

PERRY MASON TV SERIES GIVING BAD IMPRESSION

ST. LOUIS (AP) — District attorney Edward S. Silver of Brooklyn, N.Y., said recently DAs aren't getting a fair shake on television screens.

It's the responsibility of the bar, he said, "to cope with the false image projected on television screens across the nation of district attorneys deliberately convicting innocent defendants . . ."

"The Perry Mason triumphs on the television screen, as every lawyer knows, are a shocking distortion of the real problems facing every district attorney in the land."

Educational processes, like other modern activities, have reached the stage where they take money, whether we like the idea or not.

1960 Showed Decline In Alberta TB Cases As Fewer Reported

"This is the first year in which we can report a decline in the number of new cases of active tuberculosis," said the retiring president of Alberta Tuberculosis Association, Dr. T. A. Wright, at the 22nd annual meeting recently. "It is a modest reduction but we can take some comfort in that fact that it is a reversal of the upward trend."

However, while making this encouraging comment he warned against complacency. "Tuberculosis is still a major health problem affecting many areas, particularly the northern parts of this province," he said.

During the year there was a decline of 40 cases but overall 1081 cases were reported and these patients spent a total of 148,000 days in TB hospitals.

Through the clinics and surveys there were 240,000 people examined last year. This does not include an additional 40,000 who received chest X-rays under the hospital admission program.

The meeting also heard addresses from Dr. G. R. Davidson, Director Tuberculosis Division, Provincial Department of Health, and Dr. C. W.

L. Jeanes, executive assistant, Canadian Tuberculosis Association.

Newly elected president was R. L. Jardine, Lethbridge, and C. H. Rowland, Edmonton, was made vice president. The secretary is D. B. W. Montgomery, Edmonton, and the treasurer E. F. Allison, Calgary.

Bernie Payne Wins Speaking Contest

VEGREVILLE — Bernie Payne, a member of the Vegreville 4-H Dairy Club, won the sixth annual Northern Alberta 4-H Public Speaking Contest this year. "Keys to Greatness" was the title of Bernie's talk.

Miss Karen Moseson of the Rosebrier Clothing Club in the Wataskiwin area, came second with her talk on "The Indian Sun Dance". The third prize went to Melvin Minchau of the Viking Beef Club who spoke on "Parents!"

A total of 14 contestants, representing districts from the Peace River country to Red Deer took part in the competition, sponsored by the Edmonton Exhibition Association. All had chosen earlier at club and inter-club competitions in their home districts.

The winner of this year's competition was presented with a gold wrist watch by the East Edmonton Kiwanis Club. The other contestants also received appropriate recognition.

TERRY SOSNOWSKI WINS GOLD WATCH AT FARM SCHOOL

MYRNAM — Terry Sosnowski, a 13 year old youngster from Myrnam, was the recipient of a beautiful gold watch donated by the Vermilion School of Agriculture on the occasion of their annual short course.

After attending the school during the week July 24 to 29, Terry received his award for behaviour standards and agricultural knowledge obtained during the week.

Terry, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sosnowski, is the first lad from the Myrnam district to receive such an award.

Non-swimmers must wear life jackets whenever they go out in boats. To obey this rule may save a life.

LEEWARDEN, The Netherlands — Leading Aircraftman Patrick Stuparyk, 23, of Elk Point, a member of the RCAF Air Division's victorious Guynemer Trophy air gunnery team, was presented with a medallion here, commemorating the fourth straight Canadian win of the trophy.

The presentation was made by his Royal Highness, Prince Bernhard of The Netherlands, in a ceremony marking the conclusion of the two-week long competition.

The Alberta airman was a member of the 36-man RCAF air and ground team that swept to victory in NATO's annual European air-to-air gunnery championship, held for the first time this year at this Royal Netherlands Air Force base. In previous years, the contest was held at a French Air Force Base near Bordeaux.

The Air Division squad won out over six other top-ranking teams from The Netherlands, Belgium, Denmark, Germany and Norway finishing with a comfortable margin over the second place Belgium team.

Scoring in the competition was by live air-to-air firing against towed targets over the North Sea range, and by cine camera gun attacks on other aircraft. Five young Sabre pilots flew the Canadian team to victory while a crack 31-man supporting groundcrew element backed them up with smooth and efficient ground handling.

While actual scoring is done by the pilots, Air Division officials stressed that the Canadian win was a team effort, and that without the spirit and efficiency shown by the members of the groundcrew component, the gleaming silver trophy would not have been taken by the Canadians.

LAC Stuparyk is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Stuparyk of Elk Point.

Born and educated in Elk Point, he joined the RCAF in 1957, was trained as an airframe technician, and has been serving at 1 Fighter Wing, in Marville, France since 1957.

Unit Allows Customers Service After Hours, Even On Holidays

VEGREVILLE — The Bank of Montreal in Vegreville has completed installation of a dual-type "around the Clock" depository and it has gone into operation, announced by J. Richmond, Local Bank of Montreal manager. It is the first unit of its kind in Vegreville.

This dual-type system, designed to provide and added convenience to customers wishing to make personal of business deposits at any time during the day or night, is being placed in many of the more important branch banks across the nation.

Depositing under this system is simple. Current or savings account customers who wish to make use of this service are supplied with special envelopes by the bank. Placing the amount to be deposited in the envelope with two copies of the deposit slip, they insert the envelope into a slot-like opening on the front of the depository.

The envelopes slip down to a safe-keeping unit inside the bank where they are picked up by bank officials the following day. They carefully make the entry into the account and mail the duplicate copy of the deposit slip to the customer as a receipt.

Merchants and other late-hour businessmen using this service are supplied with a specially designed canvas wallet equipped with lock and key, which may be easily inserted in larger chut of the depository leading to the safekeeping unit inside the bank. When the bank is open to customers, they may pick up the wallet and make the necessary deposit or, if they wish, they may request

How to use your vegetables—Eat some raw every day. Cook quickly; use all the juices, either with the vegetables or in sauces, gravies, soups and vegetable juice cocktails.

Store carefully to keep crisp and plump. Root vegetables are best stored in a cool, moist place (send for our bulletin "Home Storage of Fruit and Vegetables"). Remember, the greener the leaf, pod or stem, the richer in Vitamin A. The outer dark green leaves are much richer sources of iron and vitamins than the inner ones. Use these leaves.

Don't prepare vegetables until just before cooking. Pared vegetables or vegetables chopped for salads, lose food value if left standing for any length of time. Leaving vegetables in water means loss of food value too.

Vegetables cut length-wise retain more of their minerals and vitamins than if cut across.

Best methods of cooking vegetables: Steaming in their skins or baking, are considered the best methods for preserving food value and flavor. Potatoes, tomatoes, squash, onions and vegetables marrow are especially good when baked.

Panning—Cooking the vegetable in its own juices with just enough fat to season—is a good method to save food values. Allow about two tablespoons of fat for each quart of the vegetable, measured after being prepared for cooking. Melt the fat in a heavy flat pan, add the vegetable and cover tightly to hold in the steam. Cook slowly until tender, but not mushy. Finely shredded cabbage; summer squash cut in small pieces; spinach; or very tender green beans, sliced thin, are examples of vegetables that may be cooked by panning. Sliced onions or whole pickling onions are most delicate in flavor when this method is used.

Boiling is the most common method used, and vegetables cooked by this method can be attractive, tasty, and full of food value, if we observe the following rules:

Cooking green vegetables—Start green vegetables cooking in briskly boiling, lightly salted water. Use just enough water to prevent sticking to the pan, or with greens, only what clings to the leaves.

Cover green vegetables to speed the cooking and to have the least loss of vitamins.

Cook green vegetables only until tender, season simply, serve at once. Save every drop of good pot liquor until it can be used in soup, sauce, gravy or a vegetable cocktail.

Do not use soda in cooking vegetables. It destroys vitamins.

Cooking root vegetables—Drop root vegetables into boiling salted water—about one teaspoon of salt to a quart of water.

With young tender roots use only enough water to prevent sticking to the pan. For older roots have enough water to cover.

Boil root vegetables whole in their skins to preserve minerals and vitamins. If you must peel, then make the peelings thin.

To keep roots from losing their bright red color, leave on the long tap root and an inch or two of stems. A quick dip into cold water looses the packet of a cooked beet so that it slips off easily. Raw shredded beets baked in the oven in a small amount of water or milk are good.

Cover the kettle to speed cooking time, save fuel and conserve vitamins. Even onions and turnips are not too strongly flavored, when covered, if not overcooked. Long exposure to heat develops the disagreeable strong flavor as well as robbing the vegetables of much of their food value. Stop cooking as soon as the vegetables are tender. Onions should take about half an hour. Cut turnips in quite small pieces and boil for twenty to thirty minutes.

To bring out their best, cook root vegetables only until tender. Don't overcook.

Serve the juices with the vegetables or use in soup, gravy or vegetable cocktails.

POLICEMAN FACES TICKET FIXING CHARGE

Cecil Henderson, a former city police sergeant, was arrested on a charge of obstructing justice following investigation into alleged fixing of traffic summonses.

The arrest followed two months of investigation by city police, the attorney-general's department and auditors.

Henderson resigned from the force after he was suspended at the start of the investigation. He had been on the Edmonton force for nine years.

The former sergeant had been in charge of court staffs at the police station and he supervised operations of the two city police courts and the two traffic courts.

Police said they found at least 60 cases in which persons charged with traffic offences had not appeared in court and the cases had not been entered on the court docket.

Henderson reserved his plea when he appeared in magistrate's court. No date was set for another appearance.

Bail was set at $5,000 property or $2,500 cash.

Swimming when hot and fatigued is dangerous. The body should be conditioned slowly to water temperature to avoid sudden shock and cramp.
